Siempre ha estado estrechamente relacionado con la creación, principalmente porque soy de origen indígena (mi abuela materna era india) y fui criada en armonía con la naturaleza. CLOTILDE de MAROUSSEM, IBVM

I am from Mauritius, I did final vows in 2010 and my motto in religious life is “Let all be as one”. I worked as a tennis coach, also in counselling, but the area of spirituality, as a spiritual director, is what I have loved most as a ministry, for the last 23 years. I have been six months in South Africa, one year in India, two years in Australia and now since three years and a half in Morocco (Asilah) where I have studied and worked. Here I have implemented silent and contemplative sessions, with 200 Moroccan women, so far. To allow this interiority I tell stories. Photography is one of my means of exploring different aspects of my vocation where interfaith dialogue and interspirituality becomes very central. As such I have been the artist of the month of February 2020 on www.anawimart.com and I am one of the members of the steering committee of the IBVM Art Ministry. Another area of interest is ecology. I have followed a formation course on agro-ecology run by "Earth and Humanism Morocco" . In February 2019 I was invited as the representative of Morocco along with a Franciscan priest to attend the course: The care of the Environment in the Ecumenical and interreligious dialogue which was held at the Antonianum Franciscan Pontifical University in Rome.

Languages: French, Creole and English

Hilmtrud Wendorff, CJ

I am a member of the CJ – Middle European Province (MEP) for 50 years, living in a small community in Nürnberg, open for guests, especially young people and women searching a time-out. I'm engaged in spiritual direction, in Retreats on the Streets and in Online-Retreats. My last ministry was novice-mistress. Before this I had mostly been teaching in one of our secondary schools and was volunteering in several groups, e.g. the Jesuit mission. I've a degree in mathematics and in theology. I'm deeply affected by the ideas of the Theology of Liberation and by that I could experience while living for several months in an interreligious and intercultural Jesuit community in a social hotspot in Berlin. My heart is burning for the poor. Advocacy work, collaborating with all people of good will (interreligious and intercultural), fighting for social justice, educational facilities especially for women and children everywhere in the world, struggle against human trafficking in its manifold variations, being loud against hatred and populism as well as languidness, standing for the dignity of every human being – those are only some of the subjects I think essential for being in the footsteps of Mary Ward today. It is a great honour and a deep joy for me that I can be part of this group and I hope that I can be of some use.
